

Nancy Kennedy

SHE CAN LAUGH AT THE DAYS TO COME

--Proverbs 31:25

Humor author and inspirational speaker Nancy Kennedy says, "Life is hard, but God is good. And he's full of surprises, like calling me to a speaking ministry. I'll never forget the day. I said something like, "God, I'll do anything for you except...." You see, speaking before an audience was the one thing I thought I could never, ever do. Since then he's been out to prove me wrong, that I can indeed "do all things through Christ." As a result, for the past several years I've thoroughly enjoyed being proven wrong as I seek to convey the message that his love and grace are readily available to all who are in Christ."

Nancy currently lives in Inverness, Florida, where she's active in her church and community. A Christian since age 23, Nancy says she surrendered her life to Jesus Christ in the ladies room of the supply warehouse at Loring AFB, Maine. She would love to tell you more about that. Married to Barry Kennedy since 1975, she says she still think he's awfully cute. They have two daughters: Alison (grown and married) and Laura, a struggling twenty-something in Charlotte, NC. (They're cute, too.)

Nancy says, "I love my life. I'm incredibly average, basically clueless, always self-centered. I love Hershey's Hugs, soft blue jeans, sushi, old Beatle songs...and knowing that there's no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. I also love to laugh and love sharing my gift of laughter and inspiration."

A member of Advanced Writers and Speakers Association, Nancy has appeared on radio programs such as Family Life Today and Renewing the Heart. She is also the Religion editor, feature writer, and columnist for the Florida daily newspaper, the Citrus County Chronicle. Read her column, Grace Notes, through her Web site at www.nancykennedybooks.net. Her books include: Prayers God Always Answers, Move Over Victoria, I Know the Real Secret, When He Doesn't Believe, When Perfect Isn't Enough, Between Two Loves, and Praying With Women of the Bible.

What others say about Nancy Kennedy:

If you like Nancy Kennedy's books, you'll love her. As a speaker, she is real and funny and down-to-earth. In the midst of relating her real-life experiences with humor and poignancy, she'll bring God's truth for your life into the midst of your gathering. We strongly encourage you to invite Nancy to speak to your group.

Laura Parker, Associate Pastor and Women's Bible Study Facilitator, Mt. Zion United Methodist Church, Marietta, GA

Nancy Kennedy speaks the truth with such genuineness. She is an unpretentious icon of unpretentiousness! In a world where women are virtually taught to wear masks, Nancy points us to the gospel, the only place where we can be safe to be who we really are. She speaks to every woman's heart that longs to truly be loved, rescued, and cared for by a faithful lover -- and Nancy knows well the only faithful One is Jesus Christ. Her books and spoken words take aim to point us to Him alone.

Reina Cherry, Coaches Honor, a ministry to coaches and coaches' wives