

Behold the Big Story of the Bible

Kevin DeYoung

1. How do you tend to respond when you're confronted with sin? Do you explain it away or do you honestly own it before God?
2. Pastor DeYoung said, "The devil promises to bring you high, and sin always brings you low." How have you personally experienced this?
3. Where are you tempted to cover your shame with "fig leaves" rather than receiving the covering God provides?
4. In what ways do you take God's presence for granted rather than treasuring it?
5. How does the promise of one day coming home to heaven give you hope and help you persevere?
6. What does it mean to "feast by faith" on Christ rather than trying to sustain yourself spiritually?
7. How does marriage reflect the whole story of the Bible—and in what ways does it proclaim the gospel?
8. Where in your life are you acting as though God is distant rather than near? How would remembering His promise to be your God—and to claim you as His own—change the way you live today?
